This is my dyslexia

Name: Ruby Smith

MADE BY DYSLEXIA

My dyslexia makes me good at:

- Using my creativity - I am an imaginer with a huge imagination
- I have a great vocabulary
- I am good at problem-solving and thinking differently
- I am good at being resilient and persevering

My dyslexia means I struggle with:

- Following & remembering instructions
- Reading as fast as others
- Getting my brilliant ideas down on paper
- Spelling, punctuation & grammar
- I have a slower processing speed, which means I need time to think (I am not day dreaming but processing the information you have given me)

What I need to work at my best:

- I am a visual learner so videos, mind maps, posters and pictures help me learn.
- If there are a lot of notes to copy from the board, give me my own notes to annotate and highlight
- Colour coding really helps me
- Let me type rather than write assignments, so I can use spell check
